

ORACLE OF INTUITION

CARD DECK

von
Jacqueline Le Sannier

The Oracle of Intuition

I am thrilled that this card deck has found its way to you. It has always been my great desire to create one and see other people work with it. These 16 cards will help you intensify your intuition. They will support you in gaining a deeper connection with yourself.

You will feel your trust in your intuitive messages grow, making it easier for you to make decisions in life.

The symbols on the cards were sent to me as messages to act supportively in the healing process of their respective themes. In order for them to fully unfold their effect, leave them out in the open near you for a while. In this booklet, you will find messages regarding the respective cards. However, let yourself be guided intuitively by the images and words on the cards before you read further here.

Love, Jacqueline

Jacqueline is a visionary, trainer for intuition, manifestation and purpose, author, actress, and mother of two daughters. She conducts international seminars and speeches. She runs a multi consciousness and figure business.

Application

Before using your card deck, it is important to shuffle the cards well. For their energetic cleansing, you can also smudge them (e.g., with white sage or incense sticks).

We have created the card deck to provide you with various application options:

1. APPLICATION OPTION: Your personal daily, weekly, or monthly message

Take a deep breath. Place a hand on your heart and then set the intention: What theme is important for me today/this week/this month? On the cards, you will always find an image, a keyword, and a corresponding prompt question to engage with. Let yourself be intuitively guided by the question.

2. APPLICATION OPTION: Answers to your personal questions

The cards can be used for guidance for all areas of life. For the answer, you can work with both the text and the images, depending on which you are drawn to.

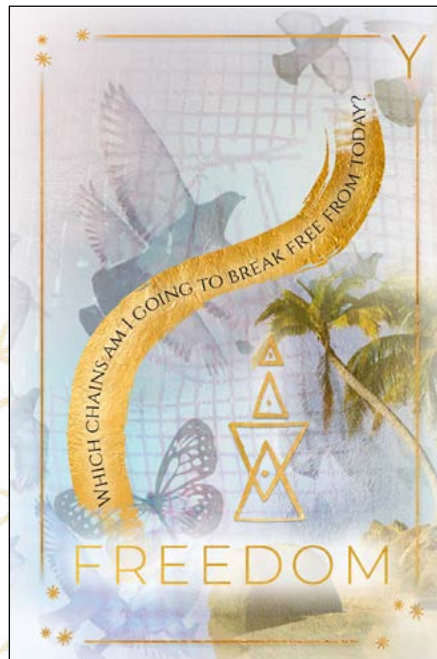

3. APPLICATION OPTION: Yes- No questions

You can ask the cards your decision-related yes-no questions. Each card has either a „Y“ for yes or an „N“ for no in the corner.

Make sure to always ask your questions with specific time references (e.g., now, today, this month).

Table of Contents

Freedom	5
Clarity	6
Receiving	7
Innocence	8
Forgiveness	9
Peace	10
Vision	11
Surrender	12
Creativity	13
Silence	14
Strength	15
Truth	16
Wealth	17
Healing	18
Self-Worth	19
Letting go	20

Freedom

True freedom integrates everything and simultaneously allows everything to be free. When you are free, you see the completeness in everything, especially within yourself. Freedom means breaking your inner boundaries. Being free in everything you do. Not having to justify oneself to anyone.

If you draw this card:

The time has come to break free from constraints and liberate yourself from limiting programs, people around you, and old beliefs, without condemning them. You now have the power to embrace and integrate endless possibilities into your life.

"I am free on all levels."

Clarity

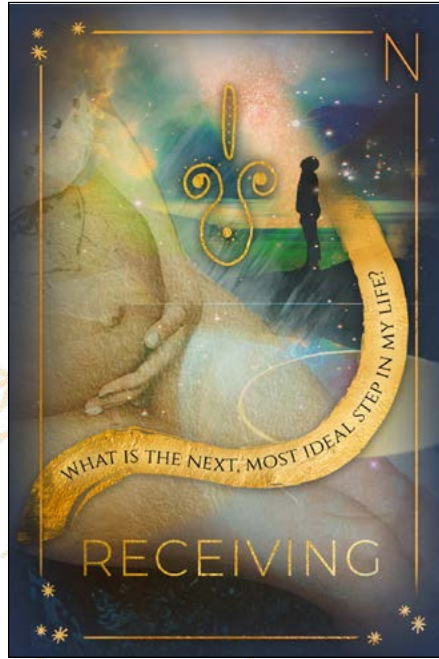

By having clarity within yourself, you will not be blown around like a flag in the wind, going from one thing to another. When you are clear, you cannot be manipulated because you know what you want.

Clarity means seeing things clearly. The veils and mists of illusions and temptations become visible, and you penetrate through them. Clarity also means allowing innocence again by letting go of judgments. Being clear means trusting your intuition.

If you draw this card:

The path is now clear, and you possess the strength and courage to live your inner truth. Make a list of one or more areas of life such as relationships, finances, career, spirituality, friends, health, etc., and ask yourself: What do I need to do here to no longer deny myself? Be ready for changes that will occur through your clarity. Bless your previous path with gratitude in order to let it go.

"I am completely clear."

Receiving

Receiving and giving are acts of self-love and healing. The higher our level of consciousness, the greater our ability to receive. For we recognize ourselves for what we truly are: beings of abundance and completeness. At the same time, we also recognize the divine universe. If we trust and are connected we will always be.

If you draw this card:

Recognize where you are actively taking because you believe you need to, instead of receiving. Recognize where you sacrifice yourself and don't see your own worth, instead of receiving. How can you receive? This card challenges you to open yourself to the wealth and abundance that is meant for you. Remember that God/the Source wants to give you everything, so start receiving.

„I am open and allow myself to receive.“

Innocence

Innocence always reminds us of our true origin, where there is no judgment and we are lovable simply because we exist. Innocence lifts any guilt we hold towards ourselves and the blame we place on others for our pain and life situations. Innocence brings us back to taking personal responsibility for our lives and out of the state of being a victim.

If you draw this card:

Reflect on what you still punish yourself for. Whom or what outside of yourself are you still blaming in order to avoid stepping into your true greatness? Now overcome the divine judgment that any guilt is lifted because it never truly existed. Reconnect with your innocence and allow your own perfection to emerge again. Also, see the perfection in the person you have judged.

„I am innocent.“

“

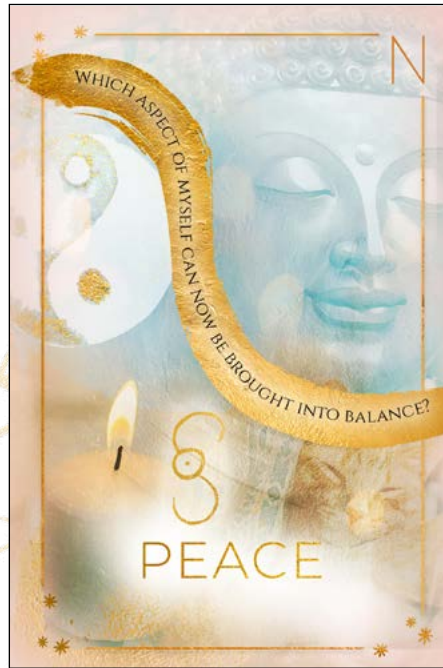

Forgiveness

Forgiveness allows us to reconnect with the sense of unity. Forgiveness recognizes yourself and others as divine beings. From heart to heart, from spirit to spirit. When you forgive, you do it solely for yourself, to regain your inner peace. With each act of forgiveness, you step out of the state of being a victim and reclaim your own power. Our ego often resists forgiveness because it always wants to be right.

If you draw this card:

Forgive all people towards whom you still hold anger. Forgive all people with whom you feel there is no ease within you. Know that at this point, at this level of consciousness, they cannot act differently. Forgiveness does not mean forgetting or undoing something. Forgiveness means reclaiming your inner peace. Forgive yourself as well for all the things that disconnect you from your connection to the divine source and your true greatness.

„I forgive today, now and here...“

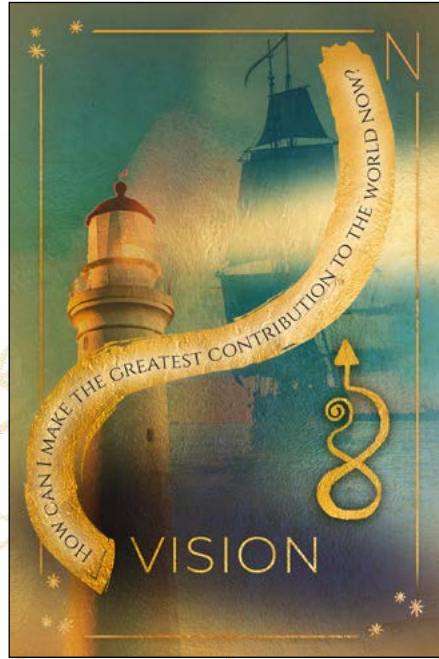

Peace

Peace is a state of blissfulness. You recognize that what makes you happy is not found outside of yourself. You attain peace when you shift your focus to the beauty in your life and accept it with gratitude. This is achieved by surrendering to your divine source, embracing all that you are. This is how you cultivate trust. You are always taken care of. The universe is never against you, it is always for you. It offers you the best possible outcomes.

If you draw this card:

Today, this card offers you inner peace. It is an invitation to change your perspective on a situation and surrender in trust that everything is good and right. Ask your higher self to show you peace. Retreat to a place that brings you peace and allow eternity and love to flow within you.

„I am peace.“

Vision

Your vision means accepting your legacy, which consists of miracles, potentials, and your life force. It is the complete fulfillment of your incarnation here on earth. Allow your divine origin to flow through you in this process.

By embracing your soul's vision, you simultaneously open yourself up to creating heaven on earth. Without a vision, we only experience a sense of meaninglessness in our lives and let it pass us by.

If you draw this card:

Open yourself up to the infinite possibilities of your existence. It is a call rooted in profound love: You are called upon to compose your song in the symphony of life. Retreat to recognize your vision on earth. This means letting go of a previous illusion in favor of the truth.

"I clearly see my vision in life."

Surrender

Surrendering is an act of deep primal trust. Knowing that you are always protected and that you will be taken care of. When you truly surrender to life, you experience a sense of the divine. This is the only way to be truly touched by life. Truly surrendering can only arise when you understand the illusion of death. It takes courage to surrender. As a gift, you experience the deepest ecstasy.

If you draw this card:

Give yourself permission to give up the fight, to choose unconditional love, and in doing so, choose ease. Leap and trust that in this moment you will be protected by your own divine source. Dive deep. From now on, refrain from making compromises out of fear, instead, soar.

„I now stop fighting and surrender.“

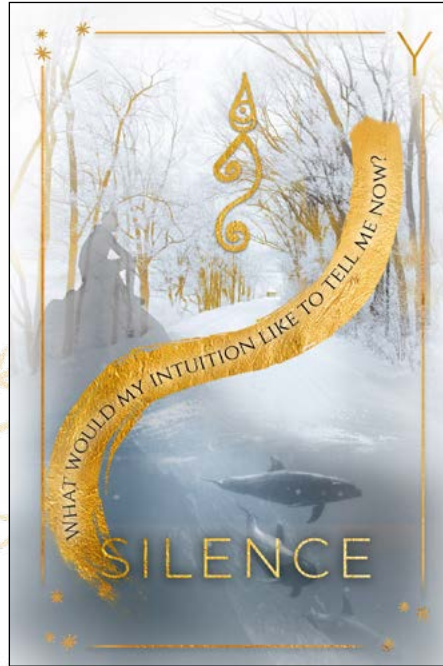

Creativity

Every act of creativity you engage in is an expression of your divinity, your devine-self. When you are creative, you are instantly connected and in the state of being a creator. We have come to this earth to create and to bring the inner image of life into an outer painting.

If you draw this card:

How would you like to express yourself creatively today? Where have you held yourself back because you thought it would be embarrassing, that you're too old, that you can't do it or that it's not worth anything? Dive into the innocence of the child today and amaze yourself anew with your creativity. Dance. Turn the music up and sing along. Paint. Write. Make music. Remember what you did as a child and do it.

„I allow creativity to flow in all areas of my life.“

Silence

In silence, you can perceive the soft tones of your heart, your intuition. In silence, you hear all the answers you need. When it becomes completely quiet within you, inner peace prevails. You finally let go of the struggle. We can rest from the constant noise of thoughts in our minds. To make new authentic decisions, we always have to choose the path of silence first. Decisions based on emotions or judgments are never truly authentic.

If you draw this card:

Withdraw. Your intuition wants to give you a message. Let go of fears, worries, and the noise of your mind for a moment, and surrender to silence. Do not be afraid or doubt what you hear, but trust that it serves your highest good.

„I now make space for silence.“

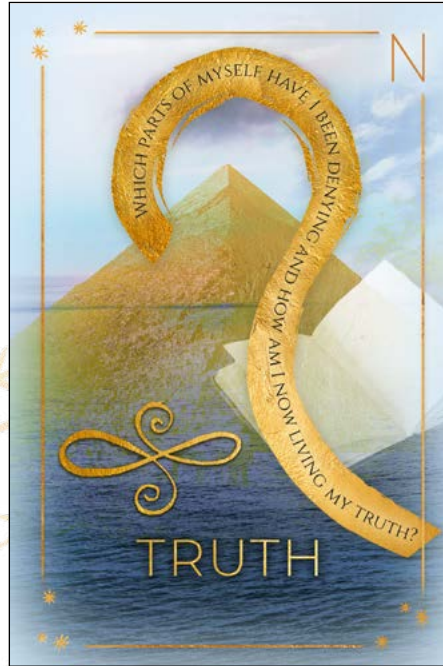

Strength

You are infinitely powerful. A lack of strength and energy means that you are not living your truth. Somewhere along the way, you have disconnected from yourself. If you remain without your strength for too long, it can lead to illness. You can regain your strength only by forgiving all those who have caused you pain. Through forgiveness, you reclaim your own life force that was drained from you. You also gain strength by acknowledging what you are: a creator of this universe.

If you draw this card:

Do not hold back your greatness any longer. Where does pain still reside within you? Whom have you not fully forgiven? Where do you still blame external factors for not living the life you desire? Forgive and acknowledge that you are the creator of your reality.

„I am infinitely powerful.“

Truth

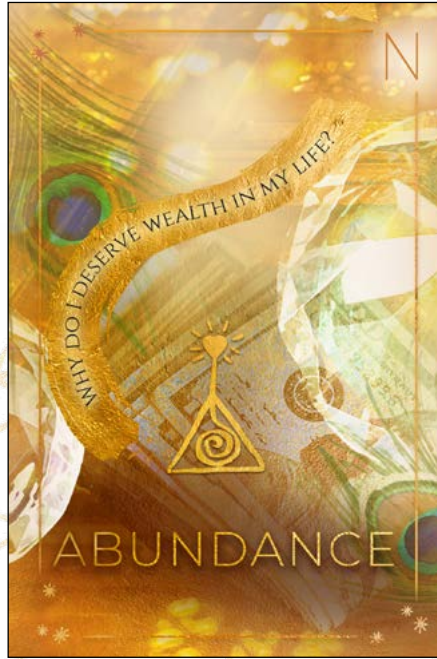

Truth shows us the path to our own happiness and enlightenment. Truth comes to us when we make the decision to stop denying ourselves and follow our hearts. We then intuitively recognize the authentic path. Truth allows us to engage in truly sincere relationships. Your inner clarity brings truth, and vice versa.

If you draw this card:

In which area of your life does truth now seek to be lived by you? The time has come to wholeheartedly strive for truth. If something in your life is not in alignment, consciously decide to live your inner truth from now on, even if you're not yet entirely sure what it is. Let go of the illusion.

„I now choose truth.“

”

Abundance

Allowing wealth always requires courage, especially in a society that invests in limitation and is built on scarcity. It means allowing the abundance of the universe and having no guilt about it. Allowing all forms of wealth means truly acknowledging what you are: a perfect being, a creation of God. No excuses or limitations.

To be in abundance on all levels means to have reached a state of mastery. It means having let go of all guilt, resentment, and self-punishment.

If you draw this card:

In this moment, you can choose to be wealthy on all levels. Why haven't I allowed it until now and given preference to scarcity? Why am I now able to create wealth? Why am I rich? Embrace scarcity, be grateful for the experience, and from now on, choose abundance on all levels.

„I am now allowed to live a life of wealth and abundance.“

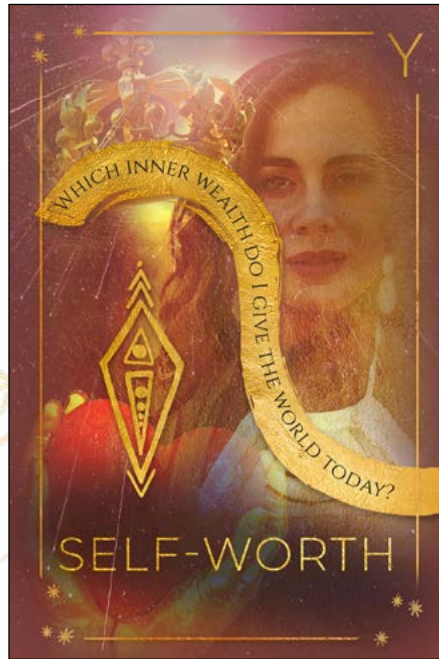

Healing

Being healed means being whole. Fully recognizing your true essence and accepting yourself as a complete being. When you get sick, you have lost a piece of your connection to the Source/God. Somewhere along the way, you didn't live your truth, but rather denied it. You disconnected yourself from a part of your joy and ecstasy of life.

If you draw this card:

In which areas have you shut yourself off from wholeness and chosen separation? Who can you forgive today, so that you can be whole again internally and reclaim your life force? It is time to fully embrace your life's purpose and stop denying yourself. It is never too late for that. You have now chosen to heal.

„I am completely healed and whole.“

Self-Worth

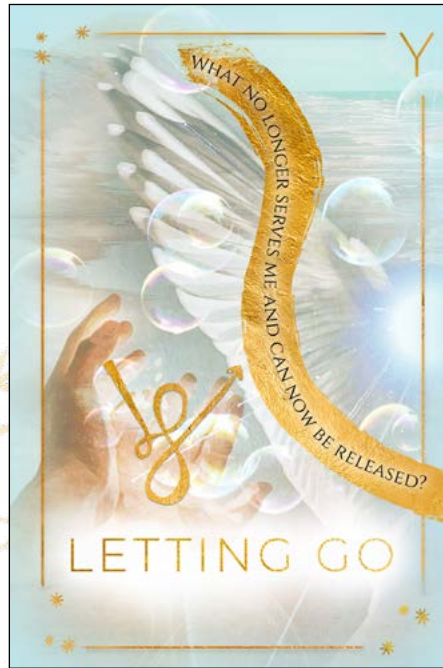

Self-worth means letting go of judgments that keep you in a deprived state and rob you of your value. It means fully accepting your true divine essence and letting go of any guilt. When we attribute worth to other people or to the world, we simultaneously attribute it to ourselves because we are never separate from others.

Self-worth is always a choice to shine, to heal, and to embody your truth in this world.

If you draw this card:

Ask yourself: Where do you see your own value? Why are you valuable? It is time to prioritize yourself once again, to do good for yourself. When and in which actions are you most deeply connected to your true self? By doing so and sharing it with the world, you can nourish your self-worth.

„I am valuable.“

Letting go

Letting go frees us from judgments and attachments. Letting go always shows us that our happiness lies in our own hands and that we are the creators. When you let go, the struggle ceases. Letting go brings us back into the flow of life where holding on has paralyzed and immobilized us.

If you draw this card:

This card lets you know that you may now allow the flow of life again in an area of your life. Where have you been so attached to something/someone that it has limited you internally? Where is there an illusion in your life that you have held onto so far?

Let go of what spontaneously and intuitively comes to mind and move on. Trust that you are making room for something better to enter your life.

„I breathe and let go of...“

If you want to dive deeply and learn to read other people and activate your intuition, then enroll in my online course

- AWAKEN YOUR INTUITION -

Awaken Your Intuition & Pineal Gland. Here, I will guide you in personal live webinars to activate your third eye and intuition.

Visit: www.jacquelinelesaunier.com/intuitioncourse for more information.

Don't forget:

You are wonderful and you are not alone on your path.

If you need support, I will be happy to accompany you.
Send a message to: team@jacquelinelesaunier.com

Please also have a look at my website:
www.jacquelinelesaunier.com

There's plenty of inspiration for you here on social media:

Jacqueline Le Saunier - Seelenvision

https://www.youtube.com/@jls_intuition/

jacquelinelesaunier

<https://www.tiktok.com/@jacquelinelesaunier>

jacqueline_le_saunier

https://twitter.com/jls_intuition

with Love, Jacqueline

